Sarah Richardson is a great designer and decorator. She not only makes a space look beautiful but also practical and functional. I also love that it features other designers who also have a great body of work which their clients are happy with. If you follow the tv series you need this book. I always watch her show so intently, it is like I am trying to memorize it. I have rewatched a few and this is better. The photos are from her Canadian series and the photos and even source information are so helpful.

The tips are great and she really tries to teach you so that you can do it your own way but with Sarah by your side to help. I love her method of starting with a "hero" fabric and then building from that. This book helped me transition from city to country and to meld the two together with style.
